

FIFTY-THIRD YEAR

Fifty-Seventh Congress Meets

Scene in the Senate Chamber Was a Most Brilliant One—
Senators Moved from One Side to Other, Greeting
Friends—Hall of Representatives Presented Gorgeous Appearance—Republicans Chaff Democrats.

Washington, Dec. 1.—The second session of the Fifty-seventh Congress convened at noon today. Long before the gavel fell in the two houses large crowds thronged about the doors of the visitors galleries, seeking admittance. A bright sunny day brought out many women who were conspicuous among the visitors. As the hour for the opening approached the crowds about the doors increased, but many were necessarily disappointed as the space allotted to outsiders was claimed early. There were many out of town visitors. To be seen in the corridors and lobbies on both sides were many public officials who left the departments to witness the opening.

The correspondents were early on the scene, preparing for the three months' work ahead of them.

Former Speaker Thomas B. Reed was a visitor at the Capitol today. Prior to the hour for convening he visited among the members of the house where he once served so many years, then among the members of the senate. He was greeted on both sides by friends and former associates.

SCENE IN THE SENATE.

The scene in the senate chamber today when that body met to begin the work of the second session of the Fifty-seventh Congress, was a brilliant one. Long before noon, when President pro-temp. Frye brought his gavel down and opened the proceedings, the galleries began filling up. Every seat was occupied by the senators and outside in the corridors clamoring for admittance. The floor of the senate was a veritable garden, chrysanthemums, roses and violets spreading their fragrance throughout the chamber. Many of the floral pieces were magnificent and completely hid the desks from view.

Without distinction of party, senators moved from one side of the chamber to the other and welcomed old acquaintances. The old ones which had been made in the heat of debate during the last session seemed healed; everywhere it was noticed that the best of feeling prevailed. The familiar figure of Senator James McMillan of Michigan, who was beloved by his associates, was missing and universal sorrow was again expressed over his demise.

Instead of the customary black drapery there was placed on the desk, formally known as the Senate desk, a banner of white with blue ribbons. A number of the diplomatic corps occupied seats in the galleries reserved for them.

Mr. Frye ascended the rostrum at noon and a hush fell upon the assembly while Rev. F. J. Prettyman, who took the place of Rev. Dr. Milburn, pronounced the invocation. The clerk called the roll and 68 senators responded to their names.

The customary resolutions were adopted notifying the house that the senate was ready to proceed to business, appointing a committee to join with one from the house to wait on the president and inform him that Congress was assembled and also fixing the hour of meeting for 12 o'clock.

HOUSE WAS BRILLIANT.

Washington, Dec. 1.—The hall of representatives presented a brilliant scene at the opening of the session today. During the recess the chamber had been redecorated throughout. The old color scheme of gold and carmine was preserved but the fresh colors served to lighten the general effect. The famous paintings of Bierstadt, "The Discovery of the Hudson," and "The Landing of the Veritas Expedition at Monterey, Cal., in 1601," which formerly hung in panels on either side of the speaker's rostrum, have been removed to the lobby in the rear of the hall and their places now hang the full length portraits of Washington and Lafayette. Although the gavel was not to fall until noon, the public galleries were packed soon after they were thrown open at 10 o'clock, and the sections reserved for the families and friends of members also filled early. The opening of Congress is a society as well as a political event, and in the galleries were many handsomely gowned women.

There was the usual flower display, although it was, perhaps, not as elaborate as upon some similar occasions in the past. It was noticeable that the victorious party in the recent campaign did not monopolize the entire flower show. By 11 o'clock the air was heavy with the odor of perfumes and the hall buzzed with the steady hum of conversation from the throngs in the surrounding galleries.

Shortly after 11 o'clock the members began arriving, the greetings exchanged seemingly being equally cordial whether they were between political friends or enemies. The Democrats who are returning after their fifth successive defeat, took the rally of the Republicans good naturedly.

It was generally remarked upon in the galleries that the most elaborate floral pieces were on the desks of Mr. Connell of Pennsylvania and Mr. Loud of California, Republicans, who were defeated for re-election. The leaders on both sides were surrounded by friends and greeted as they found their way to their desks. Mr. Cannon, Illinois, whose election as speaker of the next house is already assured, was besieged by his colleagues with congratulations and could with difficulty force a way to his desk.

Three minutes before the hour of noon the doors from the rear lobby swung open and Speaker Henderson entered. He was immediately surrounded by members and held reception on the steps of the rostrum until the hands of the clock met. Then, at noon, he ascended to his place. A great outburst of applause greeted him as he faced the house and galleries. With several vigorous waves of the gavel the speaker stilled the demonstration in his honor. The hush then followed, the blind chaplain, Rev. Coudan, offered prayer, fervently invoking the divine blessing upon the president, the government, the members of Congress, and the work of the session. When he had concluded the speaker directed the clerk to call the roll.

Immediately a babel of voices broke out and in the volume of sound that filled the hall the calls of the clerk could hardly be distinguished. So great was the confusion that the speaker was obliged to bring the house to order and to admonish both the members and the spectators in the galleries to preserve order, the roll call then proceeded.

When the roll call was finished, the speaker announced a quorum present. The resignations of Representative Ray of New York, and Hall of Pennsylvania, were laid before the house.

The following members, elected during the recess to fill vacancies created by death or resignation, then appeared before the bar of the house and took the oath of office: Augustus B. Gardner, Sixth Massachusetts, vice Stacy Moody (resigned); Alexander Bell, Meyer, Seventeenth Pennsylvania, vice Rufus K. Folk, deceased; Frank B. Brandegee, Third Connecticut, vice Charles A. Russell, deceased; John W. Dwight, Twenty-sixth New York, vice George W. Ray, resigned; Dewitt C. Flanagan, Fourth New Jersey, vice J. S. Salmon, deceased; Carter Glass, Sixth Virginia, vice E. J. O'Leary, deceased; Morris Sheppard, Tenth Texas, vice his father, John Sheppard, deceased; James J. Butler, Twelfth Missouri, vice himself, he having been unelected at the last session.

Immediately after the swearing in of these members, Taylor (Ohio), created a flurry by offering a resolution to investigate the election of Carter Glass in the Sixth Virginia district.

Mr. Richardson, the minority leader, challenged action upon the resolution, but as Mr. Taylor did not ask action upon it but only that it be referred to the committee on elections, it was so referred without objection.

A resolution was then adopted for the election of a committee of three members to join a committee from the senate to wait upon the president and inform him that there was a quorum present and that it was ready to receive any communication he might desire to make. The speaker appointed Messrs. Bingham (Penn.), Pitt (Ill.) and Richardson (Tenn.).

The customary resolutions instructing the clerk to inform the senate of the opening of the house and business and fixing the hour of meeting at noon, were adopted.

Mr. Brandegee of Connecticut then announced the death of his predecessor, Mr. Russell, and the usual formal resolutions of regret. These were adopted and at 12:55 p. m., as a further mark of respect, the house adjourned until tomorrow.

INVENTORY AND APPRAISEMENT.

According to the inventory and appraisal filed today in the clerk of the district court's office, the estate of Hon. George Q. Cannon, deceased, is valued at $201,051.40. The appraisers who took the inventory are M. T. Eakin, George M. Cannon and Eugene M. Cannon, who were appointed by Clerk James on Oct. 18, 1901.

The estate consists of 28,393 shares of the capital stock of the Grand Central Mining company, valued at $55,179 and 9,989 shares of the capital stock of the George Q. Cannon association, valued at $115,872.40. The county received a fee of $375 for filing the inventory and appraisal.

Judge Hall today appointed Sylvester Q. Cannon as executor of the estate to act in conjunction with the other executors named in the will and heretofore appointed by the court. Mr. Cannon was named as executor in the will, but at the time the same was admitted to probate he was traveling in Europe, hence letters testamentary were not issued to him at that time.

HAMLIN'S POSITION.

Denies Having Made Any Statement On the Senatorial Question.

Hon. A. L. Hamlin has returned from his trip to Minnesota, his former home, whither he went on the sorrowful errand of attending his mother's funeral. With this exception the gentleman enjoyed his visit and is in good health. Questioned as to the statement recently contained in a morning paper to the effect that he was against Reed Smoot for senator, he unequivocally and emphatically denied that he had said anything of the kind. He has reached no conclusion as to the senatorship, and probably will not till the time comes, and then he will act in accordance with his best judgment as to that and all other things.

Judges Hall, Morse and Stewart of the Third district court today appointed Henry C. McMillan and Edward L. Sloan as jury commissioners for Salt Lake county to act during the ensuing year. The duty of the commissioners is to make up a list of jurors to serve in both the civil and criminal divisions of the court, in this county, during the year 1903.

LAST SESSION OF THIS CONGRESS.

Opens Today When There Will Be A Deluge of Bills.

DEAL WITH TRUST QUESTION

House and Senate Will Adjourn Early Out of Respect to Deceased Member—Message Read Tomorrow.

Washington, Nov. 30.—When the house convenes tomorrow to enter upon the final session of the Fifty-seventh Congress, a perfect deluge of bills dealing with the trust question in all its phases will be thrown into the legislative hopper. It is admitted on all hands that this will be the most important topic of discussion; indeed, the leaders incline to the belief that beyond the appropriation bills and routine legislation, it will be the only general subject on which there is a chance of action at the short session.

As yet the leaders have formulated no measure, and there should be a pretty wide divergence of opinion of what George Q. Cannon association, valued at $115,872.40. The county received a fee of $375 for filing the inventory and appraisal.

Mr. Cannon as executor of the estate to act in conjunction with the other executors named in the will and heretofore appointed by the court. Mr. Cannon was named as executor in the will, but at the time the same was admitted to probate he was traveling in Europe, hence letters testamentary were not issued to him at that time.

Meantime the trust bills introduced probably will be referred to the judiciary committee. There is some question of jurisdiction. If a bill invokes the interstate commerce clause of the Constitution it probably should go to the commerce committee, and if the taxing power of the government, to the ways and means committee. To secure uniformity all bills dealing with the subject have gone heretofore to the judiciary committee, and this practice will be followed unless a fight for jurisdiction is made. The leaders already have resolved to expedite the appropriation bills as much as possible in order to allow the largest margin of time for other matters.

Mr. Cannon, chairman of the appropriation committee, believes the legislative, executive and judicial and the pension appropriation bills can be disposed of before the holidays. His committee will go to work at once and prepare the supply bills as rapidly as possible. The legislative and pension bills probably will be read before the end of the week. One of the first things the appropriations committee will be called on to do, however, is to prepare a bill to provide for the coal strike commission. Judge Gray, chairman of the commission, has written a letter, asking for an appropriation of $50,000 to defray the expenses of the commission, to pay its clerical force, and to furnish such compensation for its members as the president may fix. The appropriations committee will meet tomorrow to prepare a bill which it is believed, will be presented and passed this week. No opposition to it from the minority is anticipated.

The session of the house will be brief. The roll will be called and the announcement of the deaths that have occurred during the recess. The house will adjourn until Tuesday, when the president's message will be read. There is no program for the remainder of the week beyond the bill to defray the expenses of the coal strike commission. The regular order is demanded. The London dock charge bill is the unfinished business.

WORK OF THE SENATE.

Washington, Nov. 30.—The admission of new territory to Oklahoma, New Mexico and Arizona as states of the Union probably will be the first subject of general importance to receive the attention of the senate, which begins at noon tomorrow.

After the territorial bill passed the house last session, its friends in the senate were so insistent on action by the senate and so strong in point of numbers that in the interest of other pending legislation a unanimous agreement was reached that in consideration of abatement by the friends of the measure during the last session, the committee on territories would report on the bill on next Wednesday, Dec. 3, and that a week later the bill should become the unfinished business in the senate, which means that unless the measure shall be displaced by vote or by unanimous consent it will occupy first place on the senate calendar until disposed of.

It is the current expectation that this program will be carried out, whether the committee's report is favorable or unfavorable, as the agreement contemplated consideration regardless of the character of the report.

There is no definite information as to what the committee's decision will be, but at the last session all the Republican members of the committee, except Senator Quay, voted to defer consideration, while Senator Quay and all the Democratic members voted for immediate action, the result being a majority for postponement. It is known that some of the Republican members favor an amendment to the bill so as to provide for the admission of Oklahoma only, and it is the prevailing opinion that the committee will divide on this proposition, all the Republicans, except Senator Quay, being considered favorable to it. However, the transfer of one Republican vote would insure the report of a bill to admit all the territories to statehood, as Senator Quay and all the Democrats are in favor of a tri-state measure.

A protracted debate in the senate is probable. The friends of the house measure claim to have the support of all the Democratic senators and of from 15 to 18 Republicans. There is, however, determined opposition on the part of some of the Republican leaders, who are not inclined to support the measure.

Other questions which, in addition to the appropriation bills, are expected to receive the attention of the senate at this session, are the trusts, the tariff and Cuban reciprocity. It is probable that the Cuban question may be postponed until the pending commercial treaty with the Cuban government shall be transmitted to the senate, but there has not been any determination on this point. Very few Republican senators admit the probability of any change of the tariff law during the present session, but some bills to modify present prohibitions are being introduced and speeches made thereon.

Some senators speak of the creation of a tariff commission as a possibility, but there are differences of opinion as to the utility of such a body.

There is quite a unanimity of opinion favorable to anti-trust legislation, and this opinion goes to the extent of predicting results along the lines indicated by Atty.-Gen. Knox for the amendment of the Sherman anti-trust law. Difference of opinion as to the constitutionality of some of the proposed changes have developed already. The committee on judiciary will attempt to reconcile these differences, and if it succeeds, the present indications are favorable to anti-trust legislation. The Democrats will place no obstacles in the way of such legislation. There is no longer serious talk of constitutional amendments for the control of trusts as it is recognized that in a short session it would be impossible to secure action on such amendments.

The present week will barely witness the beginning of the three months' work. Tomorrow the usual committee of two senators will be appointed to call on the president, and resolutions over the death of Senator McMillan of Michigan will bring the day's session to a close a few minutes after the assembling. It is possible that the oath of office may be administered to Gen. Alger, Senator McMillan's successor, but even this ceremony may be postponed for a day. Tuesday the president's message will be read and beyond that no business will be attempted that day. The sessions of Wednesday and Thursday will also be barren, with an adjournment from Thursday until the following Monday. On Wednesday, in accordance with the agreement of last session, Senator Beveridge doubtless will present a report from the committee on territories on the statehood bill, and it will then go over until Dec. 10.

There will be an effort to confirm some of the numerous nominations expected to be sent in at the first opportunity. The list of those in whose interest this effort will be made includes Oliver Wendell Holmes, whose nomination as associate justice of the United States supreme court will be one of the first to be sent to the senate. There are a number of cases involving constitutional questions before the court, whose hearing has been postponed until a full bench can be secured, and the desire on the part of the court for prompt action doubtless will have much influence in securing expedition in considering this nomination.

A large number of bills will be introduced on Wednesday and Thursday and the foundation will be laid for what all predict will be a very crowded session.

A Massacre in Macedonia.

New York, Dec. 1.—Private telegrams received in Geneva, at the headquarters of the Armenian refugees in Europe, confirm the report of a massacre in Macedonia earlier the London correspondent of the Tribune. Most of the leaders in the recent insurrection have been killed under various pretexts. Turkish troops formed cordons around villages, cutting off their communications. It is feared a majority of the villagers have perished.

To Open Uintah Reservation.

Representative Sutherland Calls on Secretary of the Interior in Regard to Same—Will Go Ahead as Soon as Appropriation for Survey is Made—Secretary of Treasury Recommends an Appropriation of $14,000.

[Special to the "News."]

Washington, Dec. 1.—Congressman Sutherland called on the secretary of the interior this morning in reference to the opening of the Uintah Indian reservation. The secretary said that as soon as Congress makes the appropriation for a survey of the reservation he will immediately go ahead with approving same. Mr. Sutherland will go before the Indian committee in a few days and urge that the appropriation be made at once.

APPROPRIATIONS FOR UTAH.
The secretary of the treasury transmitted to Congress today estimates of appropriations required for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1904:

Utah, internal revenue district, $63,500; surveyor general, Utah, $11,000. Wyoming, $8,900, Idaho, $11,500; support of Kaibabs Indians, Utah, $2,000; support of Fort Hall Indians, $20,000; support of Shoshonis, Utah, $2,000.

For surveys and marking southern and western boundaries of Uintah Indian reservation from initial point with Green river to the intersection of the boundary line, estimated distance 125 miles, $6,000; for surveys and allotment of Uintah reservation, $14,000. For support of Indian schools, southern Utah, $13,925.

For completion of Salt Lake public building, $225,000.
Charles Jarvis has been appointed postmaster at Mandel, Albany county, Wyo., vice Philip H. Bath resigned.

COLOMBIA RELIEVES CONCHA.

His Government Removes Him From Position at Washington—He Stood Fast Against Strong Representations From Bogota Favoring Treaty—Believed Its Chances Bettered.

Washington, Dec. 1.—Senator Concha has been relieved as minister for Colombia by orders from Bogota and it is believed that Dr. Thomas Herran, the present secretary of legation here, will be appointed as minister to succeed Senator Concha in the course of a few days. Meanwhile Dr. Herran has been clothed by his government with full authority to prosecute the negotiations looking to a canal treaty with considerably enlarged powers.

Minister Concha having stood fast against strong representations from his own government favoring a treaty, the latter decided to place the further negotiations in the hands of Dr. Herran. It is of course assumed from this change that the chances of the treaty have been bettered.

PREST. CASTRO HAS YIELDED.

Hands to German Minister at Caracas a Written Acceptance of Part of Germany's Claims—Delays Presentation of Joint Ultimatum—United States Would Not Interpose.

Berlin, Dec. 1.—President Castro of Venezuela handed, probably on Thursday last, to the German minister at Caracas, a written acceptance of the part of Germany's claims sufficiently comprehensive to delay the presentation of a joint ultimatum by Germany and Great Britain, if not rendering it altogether unnecessary. It is also understood that Great Britain's demand will be satisfied.

Foreign Secretary von Richthofen and the British foreign secretary, Lord Lansdowne, are now in correspondence over Venezuela's change of front. This government considers that a peaceful settlement of the questions in dispute is quite probable and attributes President Castro's yielding to the fact that he has become aware that the United States would not interpose any obstacle to the collection of the claims of Germany and Great Britain.

WEDNESDAY'S SCHOOL ELECTION

Interest is Quite Keen, Especially In the First Precinct.

FACTIONS WORKING HARD.

Mass Meeting in the Second Precinct Tonight—Important That All Interested Should Attend.

Interest in the school election is quite keen, especially in the First precinct, where a determined effort is being made to elect Byron Cummings, the regular candidate, and Daniel Eyer, the nominee of the "Independents." In this precinct the contending factions are well organized and it goes without saying that no stone will be left unturned in the effort to get voters to the polls on Wednesday. Mr. Cummings' campaign is being managed by Chairman A. S. Martin, while Mr. Eyer's interests are being looked after by A. F. Lawson, who was appointed at a meeting held in the city and county building on Sunday afternoon.

Citizens of the Second precinct will hold a mass meeting in the Whittier school on Fifth South between West Temple and First West streets at 8 o'clock tonight. All registered voters are urged to be present, as it is important that all such be heard in the nomination of a candidate for the school board. As stated in Saturday's "News" there are three candidates very prominently mentioned, the three being Mrs. Rachel Miller, M. J. Cheesman and Col. Sam C. Park. However, it is barely possible that at the meeting tonight some other names may come before the convention.

SMOOT PROTEST PRINTED.

Ministerial Association Will Have Document Sent Broadcast.

The Ministerial association has had the Smoot protest printed in leaflet form, and will send copies of the same to all of the ministerial alliances in the United States, to the members of the United States senate, the president of the United States, and to the presidency of the "Mormon" church. It was also decided to print the replies of President Angus M. Cannon and the "News" to the protest being sent out also broadcast over the country.

The association spent most of the morning in discussing the great preachers of the past century, the discussion being presided over by a well prepared paper from Rev. Richard Wake on five great preachers he had listened to and his impressions of them. The preachers referred to the most were Spurgeon, Parker, McLaren, Beecher, Finney, Storrs and Buckley. The paper for next Monday will be on "Religion in the United States Army," by Chaplain Marvin of Fort Douglas.

MRS. HOLDING'S FUNERAL.

Impressive Services Over the Remains Of a Good and Noble Woman.

Funeral services over the remains of Mrs. E. G. Holding were held in the Fifteenth ward meeting house at 12 o'clock noon, Sunday, Bishop Morgan presiding. The attendance was perhaps the largest of the kind in the history of the ward, and the singing was furnished by the Fifteenth ward choir and included some choice and appropriate selections. The opening prayer was offered by Elder N. V. Jones and the speakers were Elders William Ostler, Thomas Hull and James E. Talmage, who referred in touching terms to the beautiful life and character of deceased and to the sacrifice she had made in behalf of her afflicted son. The closing prayer was offered by Elder James H. Anderson. There were many beautiful floral offerings and the service was a whole testified in the highest terms to the love and esteem in which Mrs. Holding was held. Interment was in the City cemetery.

STREET CAR ACCIDENTS.

Three Cars Wrecked and Sent to the Shop Last Night.

With the arrival of half a dozen new cars three street cars were put out of commission and made candidates for the hospital last night. The first accident happened to the Calder's Park car, which undertook to negotiate the curve from Second South to East Temple street, about 7:15 last evening. The first trucks took the track all right, but the rear wheels undertook to go on in the direction of Fort Douglas. They were stayed in their mad career by the side and steps of the car coming against a pole. Beyond a shaking no one was hurt, although the steps and paint came in for considerable wrecking.

At 9 p. m. two cars undertook to pass on the same track at the head of East Temple street, the South Temple and Third street cars being the culprits. The former got the worst of it, being taken a mean advantage of in the side. After the encounter there was considerable kindling wood and broken glass in evidence. Fortunately none of the passengers were injured.
